Notes on the Data for “The Politics of Union Decline”

This quarterly data is in EViews format because the reported models were estimated with this standard time-series package. While time series estimators from other econometric packages will provide asymptotically consistent estimates, these estimates almost certainly will not be the same for small samples. It follows that our findings almost certainly will not replicate if estimators from other packages are employed.

Instructions for the eight models reported in the article appear after equation labels denoted by an equal sign. For those unfamiliar with EViews, double clicking on these models and then clicking on the “Estimates” button and the “OK” will re-run a model.
